Remarks from the guests at the Rectory Cottage:

- The photos were extremely accurate and the property was nice, clean, and quiet; it was perfect for our group of friends. The house was very well set up for guests. Check-in and check-out were both quite easy. When we had a question for Pamela during our stay, she was easy to get hold of and had an answer for us immediately. The neighbourhood was quiet and when a couple of us ventured out on the trail behind the house for a morning walk, the people we met said 'hi' - friendly in that on-the-surface, casual, small town way. The cottage was a really good base for us, exploring Prince Edward County. Thank you.
- Loved the care in the room décor that it is co-ordinated and well put-together house in terms of appearance. I really like that you have that collection of tourist information in the living room. Not having physical keys was great. The kitchen was well-stocked, which was really nice for us. Thank you.
